

Apple Pudding

Apple Pudding is the kind of dessert that doesn't need much dressing up. Shredded apple—peel and all—meets brown sugar, warm spices, and a simple batter, with nuts or coconut left up to the baker. Served hot or with a scoop of ice cream, this handwritten recipe knows exactly how to make a bowl of apples feel like dessert.

- 1/2 cup white sugar
- 1/2 cup dark sugar
- 1/4 cup butter (?)
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup shredded apple including peeling
- 1 c flour
- nutmeg
- cinnamon
- salt
- cloves?
- nuts or coconut
- Serve hot or with ice cream
- auntberthasrecipebox.com