

Meat Balls

Meat Balls keeps supper simple with a mixture of ground beef and pork, onion, cracker crumbs, and uncooked rice rolled together and baked under a blanket of tomato soup sauce. The rice cooks right along with everything else, making this handwritten recipe a clever little all-in-one take on meatballs.

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1/2 pound ground pork
- 1 small onion cut fine or grated
- 1/2 cup uncooked rice
- 1/2 cup cracker crumbs
- 1 egg
- salt
- pepper

Make into balls and place in baking dish or pan.

Cover with one can tomato soup which has been diluted with same amount of water.
